

Institute of Indian Studies, Korea

◎ Greetings

President
Kwag, Changho

We are glad to inform you that Institute of Indian Studies Korea (IISK), a nonprofit organization founded on 11th November, 2013. IISK will implement to improve the relationship and aim to do an in-depth understanding between India and Korea in various fields such as business management, economy, society, culture, law and politics with the help of people who have been working for last many years for building relations between both the countries and they are having vast experience in their fields. In order to be a leading an organization of Indian studies, we are dedicated and committed to do our best efforts.

It has set a milestone in 2013 by celebrating 40th anniversary of establishment of the diplomatic relations between India and Korea. Now, it is a time to seek for mature stage of relationship both sides. We will provide and expand relevant information about bilateral country by mutual exchange of information and cooperation with experts in Korea as well as India.

As you may know, the relationship between India and Korea are having a long history dating back to 4th century with introduction of Buddhism. In modern era, it has developed more, based on understanding and encouraging each other under similar experience in the colonial times. In addition, it has proceeded further politically and economically after the establishment of diplomatic ties in 1973 and Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement(CEPA) in 2009.

We, IISK are very concerned about exchange of human and culture values. For this purpose, we will build up relevant themes and issues with the knowledge and experience of many scholars and experts in internal and external to communicate with the world. We will provide a program to support companies by collecting and analyzing information regarding India industry and economy. We will also promote various businesses to improve mutual understanding based on cultural relativism.

India has got huge potential to lead the world. From this standpoint, we will demonstrate all our capability to achieve our goal. We hope your attention and support. Thank you.
